

Sergeant Nicholson's Evidence.

A profound silence settled upon the court. When the witness had finished, who has been instrumental in gathering the most important evidence in the case against Convict King, told the story of his visit to Clover Bar and the place where he found the remains of the human remains buried beneath the ground over which ashes were scattered.

The bones, which Sgt. Nicholson had carefully preserved and given into the charge of Dr. Rossiter, were produced in the court and identified by the sergeant as those which he had found.

He agreed to let Dr. Rossiter be called into the room to state the result of his examination of the remains.

He was asked to give his opinion on a statement made by King, when awaiting trial for another charge, that he had been to the same place where they would find the remains of a man who had been murdered by one of the Indians. King had indicated that he wished to get even with because Borden had failed to help him when he was in trouble. Though King had rendered assistance to Borden on a previous occasion.

At the time of his release from Clover Bar King told Sgt. Nicholson that he could take him to a place near the mountains where the body would be found. A careful search of the spot indicated by the accused failed to turn up any trace of King. King soon after made his escape from the police, his confession being supposed to have been made prior to his appearance in the courtroom.

The accused, though not visibly disturbed by the evidence yesterday, had no objection to the statement made by the two officers of the R. N. S. M. P. who occupied the stand during the entire duration of the session, but clapped forward over the barrier which separated him from the public gallery, and held his hands behind his back, with quiet and serious attention.

The first witness to be called was a clerk in the Edmonton post office, who gave evidence corroborative of the statement made by King, and had received a letter from King in June, 1907, addressed to him from the States.

J. H. Miller, of Minneapolis, through whom the accused is supposed to have been born, and who resided on Hinsdale farm in Minnesota, was called for cross-examination, but adhered closely to his identification of the accused as the man who had impersonated him, and who had obtained a loan on the murdered man's property.

Witnesses also gave the account, for the first time after the closing of the deal, that since witness' arrival a week ago.

Charles Phillips, Sergeant in the R.N.S.M.P., said that he had been stationed in Western in June, 1907. He received a letter from Mr. J. W. Rossiter, J.P. of Millet, 16th March, 1907. He reported the contents and received instructions to patrol the trails between Millet and Strathcona. With Borden he proceeded north and reached Millet on the 17th March, 1907. About three miles northeast of Millet, Rossiter pointed out a place where he had given witness in Millet. He saw distinct marks of blood for some distance along the trail.

Brought Cap to Edmonton.

The cap was brought subsequently to the cap to show it had been found in court as the cap had received from him.

He also noticed marks that seemed to indicate a sleigh had gone south along the trail.

North of the blood marks there were tracks of a horse that had been grazing and oats lying on the ground.

Where Borden had said he found the tracks, Phillips said he found the snow where someone had tramped. The space marked measured four feet of snow.

Patrolled Trail.

He next patrolled the trail north as far as Millet, making inquiries among the settlers.

Witness made a further inquiry, asking if he had seen any tracks of a team with black team, a sleigh and wagon.

He had reason to believe that A. August Tyman, a miner, had murdered the body and buried it. He had been at the hotel under date March 16th, 1907, was the man he was seeking, particularly as he had been to the Calumet and Edmonton trail to Strathcona and Edmonton. In Fraser's Flat he met a man who had been hunting.

Didn't Know Accused.

He did not know who he was, but had no objection to the statement made by the two officers of the R. N. S. M. P. who occupied the stand during the entire duration of the session, but clapped forward over the barrier which separated him from the public gallery, and held his hands behind his back, with quiet and serious attention.

There was probably from eight to ten miles between the two points at that time. The "tramped-down" space was where the cap was said to have been found.

Schmidt's name was pointed out to him by Archer on the hotel register as the name of the man he met at the hotel with Dr. Aylen.

Cap Saturated With Blood.

The inside of the cap was saturated with blood. Looked a little darker than the outside, but not so dark as other caps similar in shape and material.

Sadie Scott Munro, formerly sergeant in the Royal Northwest Mounted Police in Edmonton as sergeant in 1907. She had seen the cap shown to him before he left for the States in June, 1907.

After getting it in put it in his safe where it remained from sometime in May until he left for the States in June, 1907.

It had begun to smell bad, and he had to burn it to get rid of the smell. Then he drove to a place where he was advised that they might find Borden and King.

King's Escape.

Argued he knew where they were making enquiries at the time he was on Oct. 1st, 1907. Witness saw him about one and a half hours later in the bank, but did not catch him. They searched for eight or ten days. Witness saw him next in the cells at Edmonton on Sept. 1st, 1907, and he was in prison from 1st October, 1908 to 21st April, 1909.

Witness knew cap he saw first in court as the cap he had received from him.

King made a statement which witness took down, and he signed it, and before Sup't Cuthbert, to whom he made the same statement, Sup't Cuthbert also caulked it.

His Second Statement.

The second statement was practically the same as the first. Sup't Cuthbert signed it, and he signed it again.

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE HERE

General Assembly After Warm Discussion Approve of Project of Alberta Synd.

Hatfield, June 8.—The Province of Alberta, in which the churches and missions of the Presbyterian body have increased so rapidly during the past few years, has had a special college of its own and will in future exert its own ministers. This was decided at the annual general assembly arrived at its afternoon session after a spirited debate.

The assembly, consisting of the first board of management and the first senate of the new institution, the university, met in session in connection with the provincial university in Strathcona.

The body of the members of the governing body include those of the most prominent ministers in the province and also those who would know them. Among the latter are Rev. Frank Oliver and Hon. W. C. Cross, Mr. Justice Stewart of Calverley, Jas. Short, barrister-at-law; Dr. John Lomax, Mr. Donald, M.P.P.; Edmonton and J. M. Douglas, M.P., Strathcona.

Dr. D. G. McQueen, of Edmonton, is present as chairman of the board of managers and Dr. J. W. McLean, president of the board and senate together in joint meeting and elect a principal. It is planned to have the first course of study begin in the present year. Temporary class rooms will be provided in the university.

The principal did not go through without debate. Among those opposing the election were Rev. Dr. George Green, of the school at Beaconsfield, Rev. W. Peattie, of Cobourg and Rev. Dr. Pringle of Sudbury. All of these speakers were in favor of the project, the church had created six theological colleges and the number of students in attendance was 1,000.

BIG EDMONTON DONATIONS.

Dr. McQueen stated that Alberta would contribute $100,000 and that it would never be a burden on the church at large. The amount in his opinion, was not presented to give $10,000 apiece to the erection of a building. Among the speakers in support of the project was Rev. Dr. Bryce, W. D. Held, Rev. Dr. Bryce, Principal McKay of Vancouver, and Rev. Dr. Scott of Victoria.

It was decided by the assembly that a boarding home should be built at Vegreville, Alberta. This is a proposed town where there is no hospital or a dispensary for the conducting a hospital for the Ruthenian settlers at that point. The plan is to have a hospital and a dispensary and to accommodate at the start about ten boys. The latter will be educated in the English language and in the teachers, physicians, etc., among their own people.

Dr. A. Ross, of Edmonton, spoke to the meeting for the home personally, and will also arrange to finance the undertaking. The hospital will be conducted by the enterprising managers of the organization.

During the afternoon a telegram was received from the representative of the Orangemen asking the assembly to take action and protest against any change in the name of the King. The master was not dissolved, a committee being named to be advised with reference to the matter.

Bigger Salaries.

Many home mission matters were discussed and the question of salaries to be paid ordained missionaries was again introduced and it was moved that the minimum salary should be $1,000 a year. Mr. Macdonald was in agreement, kindred bodies, that if there is a condition of the church he declares that this salary can and ought to be paid. His motion was supported by Dr. McLean.

Twelve minutes were received from other organizations in the ministry of the Presbyterian church. Among these were Rev. P. R. Houdeau, of Regis presbytery; Rev. E. H. Hense, of St. Paul's presbytery; Rev. W. H. Morris, of Brandon presbytery; the application of Rev. George Jack of Battleford, is still under consideration.

New Presbyteries in Saskatchewan.

The matter of the new presbyteries in Saskatchewan, now in session in Saskatoon, the presbyteries of Swift Current and Westminister, were set aside by the synod of Saskatchewan. The decisions in Saskatchewan are so rapid that the assembly could not decide on the exact number.

Rev. W. T. Hamilton, of Edmonton, and Rev. James Hess, of the presbyterian church, presented the status of minister and Rev. W. T. Blakely, of Montreal, and Rev. W. W. Smith, of Brandon, asked that further evidence be given to the assembly of the status of ministers after spending one year in the field.

Dr. MacLean presented the report of the aged and infirm minister fund, the adoption of which was moved by Rev. Dr. W. F. W. Berry. An order was passed that all money raised by the aged and infirm minister fund be used to consider the welfare of the aged and infirm.

Rev. Hugh McMillan, of Alberta, urged that the time at which the full benefit should be received from the fund should be made $5 instead of 70 cents. On resolution to this effect, a large committee was named to consider the matter of the organization under which the work of the church is done. Many ministers express the conviction that the form of organization of the church must be changed.

A large committee was also appointed to take under advisement the question of the formation of a national army of men for some mission work. Rev. J. A. McFarlane was named as home missionary to the provinces of Quebec and Ontario. The report of the treasurer showed that on the funds of the church in the field of missions the sum was less than five dollars. It is stated that the record of the church in this regard is not equalled by any investment company in Canada.

KING'S OATH NOW DOMINANT ISSUE

First Parliament Under King George Assembles—A Complex Situation

London, June 8.—The first parliament of King George V., which assembled yesterday, is dominated by the grave and more complex situation arising from a new reign. In the political situation of King Edward's reigns, there are few changes. Parliament takes up, not only the great question of curbing the power of the crown, but, altering the nation's finances, but altering the King's oath, the public mind and people are taking sides on the proposal to eliminate the oath, which are termed iniquitous by Roman Catholics.

Cabinet Meets.

Previous to the formation of the opening, the cabinet met in Downing street, all the members being present. The question of the oath was given particular importance. In well-informed circles it was felt that the King, going around that, while the right would continue with much bitterness, the left would be more lenient. It was keen for the veto question to be urged ahead, declaring that important legislation was held up by the government through delay. Both sides have been reported to desire a breathing space in which they may size up the situation and the attitude of King George.

In the afternoon a meeting of the Liberal party was held. Mr. J. C. Simeon gave an instruction paper on "The Home and Foreign Missionary Work." Mr. J. J. Baker's paper, "The Ministry of the Mission Circle to the Mission," was also read.

THE INSURGENTS.

The Calgary News is very anxious that some of the insurgent members of the Legislature should resign their seats—just, of course, to test public opinion as to the stand they took on the A. and G. W. question. It also informs them that some at least have separated themselves from the faith and are hereafter to be regarded and treated as heretics and outcasts from the fold of Liberalism. As one of the Insurgents has already resigned from his seat it would remain for those who took the other side of the question to take the plunge next, if we are to have a series of these testing experiments. The News was chief among the Liberal papers which defended the bargains. Its influence ought to be sufficient, therefore, to persuade some gentleman who sided with it on that question to stake his neck on a few contributions to the Insurgents. It has not been observed, however, that the News has been coaxing any members who supported the bargains to jump out of their seats. It is not difficult to get into the A. and G. W. question if it is very likely to do so again. Nor will it be difficult to get into the A. and G. W. question if it is very likely to do so again. If the News is not willing to exert its influence in that direction, or if its influence is not strong enough, nor its desire to produce results great enough to be gained if the insurgent members decline to come forward from an enemy wangle friend, will not it be better to let that end? There will not be any epidemic in resignations if the News has to start it by advising its readers to vacate their seats. Not until the most undesirable example is set from the Liberal party because the News has seen fit to issue its economic manifesto.

There is no really good reason why magnates on either side of this question should vacate their seats and make a spectacular but altogether unnecessary scene over the heads of their constituents. A reading of the argument proves nothing but the sincerity of the gentleman who resigns. It does nothing to help him, however, that he who stands with him, Mr. Riley's resignation proves simply that Mr. Riley was prepared to stand by his constituents on that point. He has no right to demand support to warrant him in putting his Province to the expense of a political contest in the midst of a long session. As far as the A. and G. W. question goes nothing for it has nothing to do with that bargain. The grounds given by the member for Gleichen for resigning were entirely reasonable. His friends had been shamed for a general election, and he had no right to stand by his constituents in relation to that bargain. No one deserves to be blamed for resigning and runs again prove that he has accurately judged the trend of public opinion in the Province at large. That he did not do so is the chief cause of his general election, and it is noticeable that the News and its friends have been shouting for a general election. The reason for the conduct of the course of the insurgent members is clear. It is to stay in the House and to maintain there the position they had secured, the question of the house being the least cut and stoned, and it has the chief approval of the majority of the bold-headed and independent people in the Province. The insurgents have admitted that the bargain was a bad one, and that being so it dismaliated the most responsible for it. Their conduct is to make the public suffer. Their latest claim was absolutely admitted when the supporters of the late military made it clear that for the miners to leave the mines in the winter months and enter contention was tacitly admitted by the same circumstance. But this admission has yet to be carried to its logical conclusion. The estimation of the contract and the deduction of the money borrowed on the credit of the Province to its proper uses, and the payment of the debts due to the miners, will be the last step to look with confidence to the insurgents to devote themselves seriously to the accomplishment of that end, and other steps can be taken to do the same, breaking faith with the public and with their own record. The new government is entitled to their con-nidence and support unless it should be apparent that to continue that support would be to abdicate the post of honour and responsibility which the public has given to it. They would be most unwise to allow themselves to be carried away by dissatisfaction on any question, and then begin the task of saving the larger issue. That duty is to stay in the Legislature and to back the Sitton Government in anything the latter may do for which they themselves exposed the new and in which themselves demanded should be approved.

The case will be continued at a later date.

LAST 2 DAYS OF THIS SMASHING SALE

BRING MOST STUPENDOUS SNAPS

When we have a sale, we spell it with big letters, we make no bones about it, the prices have to go way down, the profits mostly vanish, the public get clothing at record prices---we get the cash. Yes, that's the reason for most sales; we honestly admit that we need the cash and are willing to make sacrifices to get it. We are equally honest about the values of the goods on sale. You will see the regular prices on all the tags and the sale prices as well; you can't make any mistake and miss getting a bargain whatever you buy in this store during this sale. For the last two days we make further concessions.

PERSONAL.

Least-Governor Hayes has gone to London on a private business trip. He is expected back in the city on Saturday night.

NO CAR BARN THIS YEAR.
Commissioner Fulton has written to T. Law, chief architect of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, regarding the plans for the new car barns approvals of the original idea as outlined by Mr. T. Taylor, but asking for some small changes.

To the Bulletin this morning, he said:

"There will be a grand entertainment at Youville Concert, St. Albert, on June 16th, at half-past seven o'clock.

The Irish Canadians will practice tonight at 6.30 on the Second street grounds.

A young man named Alexander Anderson was thrown from his horse while he was riding across the Saskatchewan River. His horse, carrying his head on one of the girders was rendered unconscious. It was taken to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police General hospital, where it was found that his injury consisted of a bad cut on his forehead.

SHAM HATTE LAST NIGHT.

An unusual and somewhat sham battle was participated in last night between the 1st Fusiliers and A Squadron, 19th Dragoon Guards.

In the skirmish, the advance guard of a male body, advancing from Edmonton along the flats, was repulsed by the Fusiliers.

Both sides were armed with sham rifles and bayonets.

Both combatants took up skirmish order, the Fusiliers advanced, the Dragoons retreated.
